The Invisible Majority: Erasure of Nonmonosexual Identities in LGBTQ+ Culture
Alumni House, Virginia Dare Room
Bisexual, Pansexual, Queer, and other nonmonosexual identities are constantly erased from dominant culture and LGBTQ+ spaces alike, even though these individuals make up the majority of the LGBTQ+ community. A panel of students will discuss the challenges of erasure within the community and how we can work to change these misconceptions surrounding nonmonosexuality.

Can I be Both? A look into the lives of Queer People of Color
Alumni House, Virginia Dare Room
In collaboration with the Intercultural Leadership Council, join us for a QPOC Lunch & Learn in honor of Black History month. This will be an open dialogue led by students to unpack what it means to be LGBTQ+ and a person of color in a culture that doesn't allow the two identities to mix.

Understanding Company Culture: Diversity versus Inclusion in the Workplace
Intercultural Resource Center (EUC 062)
Hosted in partnership with UNCG’s Career Services Center
Join us for an open roundtable conversation intended to create an honest space for students, alumni, and hiring managers to consider the job search for diverse candidates, and what to look for when evaluating an organization’s commitment to inclusion. Learn best practices on how to ask the hard questions to qualify the culture of a company, and hear from other’s experiences in the search for an authentic fit at work.

It takes a Village: Community partners working toward LGBTQ+ inclusion
Alumni House, Virginia Dare Room
Facilitated by Dr. Brad Johnson
Health and Medicine. Education. Counseling. Advocacy. Fundraising and Grants. These areas and many more constantly affect all of our lives, but for LGBTQ+ identified individuals, these services become more important and may also present barriers to daily life. Come meet and hear from some of our community partners who are working toward greater inclusion for our LGBTQ+ citizens in Greensboro.
